

If Community life is to be Lived at its Best, the greatest good of the greatest number must be considered before the Desires of the Few.